35

BUT WHERE ART THOU

Ballad

DEDICATED TO HIS FRIEND

John W. Everhard Esq.

BY

JNO. SELTZER

WITH PIANO FORTE ACCOMPANIMENT

BY

H. J. NOTHNAGEL

PROFESSOR OF MUSIC IN THE OHIO BLIND ASYLUM

1859
Nothnagel

BUT WHERE ART THOU.

BALLAD.

Melody by John Seltzer. Arr: by H. J. Nothnagel.

Cantabile.

PIANO.

1. A - gain..... the flow - - ers we loved..... to twine, Wreath wild round
2. At eve..... to sail..... up - - - on..... the tide, To roam a - - - - -
3. They say..... there is..... a voice..... of mirth, In ev' - - - ry

Entered according to Act of Congress A.D. 1859 by Seltzer & Webster at the Clerk's Office of the Dt. Court of Ohio.

ev'- - - ry tree..... A gain..... the -long the shore,..... So sweet..... while grove and glen. But sounds..... of sum- - - - - mer sun - - - beams shine, That can - - - not shine..... on thou..... wert at..... my side, Can now..... de - light..... no glad - - - - - ness on..... the earth, I can - - - - - not know..... a- - thee. Ver - - dure re - turns with fresh - - - er more. There is..... in heav'n, and ere..... the -gain. The rip- - - - - pling of..... the sum- - - - - mer bloom.... To vale..... and moun - - tain brow, All flood..... The same..... deep a - - - - - zure now, The sea..... The bird..... up on..... the bough, All

fz

na - - - - - - ture breaks as from the tomb..... But same..... notes war - ble through the wood..... But speak..... with one sad voice to me..... But where..... oh where..... art thou?

where..... oh where..... art thou?
where..... oh where..... art thou?

D.C. dal Segno.

pp morendo. ppp

mu-13